

ACROSS

- Bitter, aromatic salad green with a peppery mustard flavor
- Metric prefix equaling one-tenth
- Small, simple microorganisms that need living cells to grow and multiply; are transported by food and water and cause forborne illness even when present in small numbers
- Foreign government's written permission for a traveler to enter that country for a specific reason and length of time
- Guests who leave before their anticipated date of departure
- Heavy, rectangular knife used to chop a variety of foods
- Fat that builds up between muscle fibers
- When money is exchanged for business reasons; needs to be recorded in accounting records
- Physical leavener used in baking
- Group of people who react to ideas, concepts, services before these are communicated to the market at large
- Vegetable sauce made from a puree of vegetables or fruit that can be served hot or cold
- Used to mix and process large amounts of food with specialized attachments

DOWN

- Single-celled organisms that are invisible and often cause disease
- Method used to process food into a smooth pulp
- Eats away or dissolves material
- Cold, Spanish tomato-based soup
- Mixture of egg yolks and cream
- Long-handled spoon used to portion out liquids
- Amount of space an ingredient takes up; type of measurement
- Small potato dumplings served in Italian cuisine
- Equal parts of cooked flour and fat used to thicken liquids; used in Cajun cooking
- Amount of food that is actually served divided by the amount of food purchased
- Chemical messengers that regulate many different body functions
- Group of people (customers) with specific, similar needs or wants
- Meat and egg white proteins that float to the surface and trap any impurities that can cloud a consommé
- Different styles of type
- Hormone that controls blood sugar levels
- Compounds found in many types of food that help carbohydrates, proteins, fats, and minerals work properly
- Large groups of plants ranging from single-celled organisms to giant mushrooms